Dear Parent / Carer

Reading is a life skill and a priority here at Bardfield. We ask that parents read regularly with their child at home; this will not only help with fluency but also comprehension skills.

In your child's reading record you will now find a list of question stems. We have provided these as a way to help you challenge your child with their reading. Fluency is an essential part of reading but it is also vital that they understand what they are reading. By questioning your child about what they have read they begin to think about the text and explore the key events.

Whenever you read with your child, use the question stems to check and extend their understanding.

If you have any questions, ask your child's class teacher.

Yours sincerely
